About

Carequality is a national HIE (Health Information Exchange) in which patient information is placed for sharing amongst health care providers.

DIRECT messages permit point-to-point sharing of information, but they require the information creator to "push" the information directly to you, the recipient. Carequality improves data exchange by putting all the information created by a health care provider into an online pool. You can now search the entire pool and download data on your patients to your OP.

Benefits of Carequality

Carequality is an interoperability framework that connects practices, health systems, hospitals, and health information networks for the purpose of securely sharing patient data, enabling nationwide care coordination. Carequality can help you and your practice through:

Healthier Clinical Outcomes	Reduced Administrative Burdens	Better Patient Relationships	Improved Care Coordination
Access your patient's records from their other providers to gain a more comprehensive view of their overall health, improving care and reducing medical errors.	The integration allows you to pull records directly into the patient chart - no more scanning in documents or manually keying data, reducing clerical errors.	Your patients don't have to worry about asking other providers for a CD or flash drive, or to send their data to you by fax or mail - you take care of it for them!	Seamlessly transmit information to and from other providers, improving coordination of care, especially for patients with more complex conditions.
